Terms of Service

Effective date: November 3, 2026

Last updated: November 3, 2026

These Terms of Service ("Terms") are an agreement between you and Prabal Jaiswal ("we", "us") for your use of the Splitie mobile app and related services (the "Service"). Please read them carefully. By creating an account or using Splitie, you agree to these Terms and to our Privacy Policy. If you do not agree, do not use the Service.

1. What Splitie does

Splitie helps groups record shared trip costs, work out who owes whom, track personal spending and send reminders. Splitie is a record-keeping and reminder tool only. We do not process payments, hold or transfer money, or verify that any payment was made. Any payment between users happens outside the app and is solely between those users.

2. Eligibility and your account

- You must be at least 18 years old and able to enter a binding contract.
- You must give accurate information and keep your login details secure. You are responsible for activity on your account.
- Tell us promptly if you believe your account has been accessed without permission.

3. Trips, invites and join codes

- When you create a trip you become its host. Each trip has a 6-letter join code. Anyone who has the code can join the trip, so share it only with people you want in the trip.
- You can also invite someone by email. They will see who invited them and which trip it is, and they can accept or decline. You must only invite people you know and who would reasonably expect the invite.
- Members of a trip can see the trip's name, its members, expenses and balances. Do not add information to a trip that you do not want other members to see.

4. Expenses, balances and payment reminders

- You are responsible for the accuracy of the expenses and amounts you enter. Balances shown in the app are calculated from what members record and are for convenience only; they are not legal proof of a debt.
- Payment reminders are messages sent by a member to other members of the same trip. We deliver them but we do not write, endorse or guarantee them, and we are not a party to any amount owed between users.
- Use reminders reasonably. Do not send reminders to people who are not members of the trip, or send them repeatedly to harass or pressure someone. We may limit how often reminders can be sent.
- Splitie is not a debt-collection service and does not provide financial, legal or tax advice.

5. Acceptable use

You agree not to:

- break any law or the rights of others, or use the Service for fraud or deception;
- harass, threaten, impersonate or spam other users;
- upload malicious code, or attempt to access accounts, data or systems you are not authorised to access;
- probe, scan or test the security of the Service, guess join codes, or interfere with its operation;
- reverse engineer, scrape or copy the Service except as the law allows; or
- use the Service to store or send unlawful, abusive or hateful content.

6. Your content

You keep ownership of the content you add, such as trip names and expense details. You give us a limited licence to store, process and display that content to you and to the members of your trips so we can run the Service. You promise you have the right to add it.

7. Notifications

If you allow notifications, you agree to receive trip invites and payment reminders on your device. You can turn notifications off at any time in your phone's settings.

8. Third-party services

The Service relies on third parties such as Supabase, Google, PostHog, Sentry and Expo. We are not responsible for their services, and your use of Google sign-in is also subject to Google's terms.

9. Our rights

The Splitie name, logo, design and software belong to us or our licensors. We give you a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable licence to use the app for its intended purpose. You may not use our name or logo without permission.

10. Availability and changes

We work to keep the Service running but do not promise it will always be available, error-free or free of data loss. The app may be distributed directly as an APK file and may change, include new features or lose features at any time. Keep your own records of anything important.

11. Suspension and termination

You can stop using the Service and delete your account at any time by contacting us. We may suspend or end your access if you break these Terms, misuse the Service or put others at risk. Sections that by their nature should continue, such as disclaimers, liability limits and governing law, will continue after termination.

12. Disclaimers

The Service is provided "as is" and "as available" without warranties of any kind, to the fullest extent the law allows. We do not guarantee that balances, reminders or notifications will be accurate, timely or delivered, or that other users will pay what they owe.

13. Limitation of liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, we are not liable for indirect, incidental, special or consequential losses, loss of data, profits or goodwill, or for disputes between users, including unpaid amounts. Our total liability for any claim relating to the Service is limited to the greater of the amount you paid us for the Service in the previous 12 months or INR 1,000. Nothing in these Terms limits liability that cannot be limited by law.

14. Indemnity

You agree to compensate us for losses, claims and costs that arise from your breach of these Terms or your misuse of the Service, including content you add or reminders you send.

15. Governing law and disputes

These Terms are governed by the laws of India. Subject to any rights you have under applicable consumer law, the courts at Gwalior, Madhya Pradesh, India will have exclusive jurisdiction over disputes arising from them. We encourage you to contact us first so we can try to resolve the issue informally.

16. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms. When we do, we will change the date at the top and, for significant changes, tell you in the app. Using the Service after the update means you accept the new Terms.

17. Contact
